

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT BOW RIVER U.F.A. CONVENTION

Anyone who believed that the Farmers' movement in Alberta was in a bad way would have received quite a shock if they had attended the Bow River U. F. A. convention at Meadbrook on July 7th. There were 70 fully accredited delegates from 30 local precincts from all parts of the constituency, excluding the large attendance of juniors. All the delegates must have brought their neighbors with them as there were about 400 people present which taxed the capacity of the hall to the utmost.

The convention got underway at 10:30 a.m.; the financial report was read and was received with satisfaction. It was shown that all debts were paid including the debt to Acadia constituency and that substantial amount of cash was on hand to be allocated to the various constituency associations that will be taking in various parts of the Bow River. It was deemed a most remarkable showing in view of existing conditions.

After lunch the convention discussed resolutions. One of the more important was one commending the Yukon Advocate, a newspaper never friendly to the Farm Movement for the publicity given the convention of the Little Bow Provincial U. F. A. Association which after hearing their member the Hon. O. L. McPherson speak, unanimously reaffirmed their confidence in him.

The convention then stood with bowed heads in tribute to the memory of L. F. Pinkerton, long a loyal worker for the cause.

Mr. Gibbs, labor M. L. A. for Edmonton, was then introduced and gave a comprehensive review of the aims of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, showing how the interests of the farmers and the workers in the city were intertwined. His address was enthusiastically received. One delegate rising to remark that in his opinion the letters C. C. F. stood for "Call to Christian Fellowship."

There was a lively but friendly discussion as to which constituency Mr. E. J. Garland would contest in the next election. The conclusion being reached that it did not greatly matter as he would shortly represent the farmers whether riding the seat for.

Mr. Garland then addressed the meeting and was in top form, no doubt, stimulated by the large crowd and the many manifestations of appreciation that he had received from his constituents. In a speech scintillating with wit and hard common sense, he held his listeners spellbound at a high pitch during the hottest hours of a hot afternoon. He described the last session of Parliament in such a fashion that his audience felt that they were sitting with him in the House of Commons. His descriptions of members of the house of the opposition parties were particularly good and highly appreciated. He was undisturbed by the fact that his constituency had been destroyed by the re-arrangement and showed how it could be turned to the advantage of the movement. Mr. Garland received an ovation at the close.

The juniors had charge of the evening session and gave a program of over two hours duration consisting of songs, speeches, sketches, etc. The ability shown by these young people was such that the future of the movement seems secure.

Pres. M. L. Ward then expressed his appreciation to those who helped to make the convention a success and then called for the National Anthem which brought to a close the last and perhaps the greatest U. F. A. convention in old Bow River.

BOY SCOUTS HAVE GREAT TIME CAMPING AT RIVER

During the past week a district scout camp of some sixty boy scouts with their scoutmasters have been camped at the west end of the flat on the Blackfoot reserve known as North Camp. The scouts came from the nearby towns and included the Old Sun School as well as the Gleichen Scouts. All were in charge of Rev. J. House who has for more than 30 different occasions been in charge of camps in various parts of Canada.

A better place to have pitched the camp on the Bow River would have been hard to find. It was sheltered from the winds by the hills to the north and the trees to the west; near by a good swimming pool was located where the boys enjoyed a dip every day. Several tents were set up in sheltered places for the boys to sleep in, while a large tent was used for a dining room.

During the week, particularly in the evenings many visitors put in an appearance and spent the time listening to the camp fire stories and songs. Sunday a large number of cars from the nearby towns put in an appearance to visit the boys from these places and all were delighted with the camp.

Friday J. Boyd who has charge of the camp took the boys and the little fellows enjoyed themselves immensely. They returned to town Saturday.

Monday afternoon the camp broke up, all the scouts voting they had had the time of their lives.

L. F. PINKERTON

The funeral of F. L. Pinkerton, who took place in Calgary Saturday was largely attended many of whom were from Gleichen and vicinity.

Feathered Stowaway

A pigeon that found itself "in the soup" was taken care of by a butcher, but will never end up in a pie, made the front page a few days ago when the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain" arrived at Quebec from Southampton with a homing pigeon on the list as a stowaway. The pigeon, flying the camera with a questionnaire, was seen aloft in the hands of J. Gibson, Chief Engineer of the Empress.

Battered by storms after fighting heavy head winds for a number of hours, the pigeon, which had been released some 250 miles west of Land's End in for from the steam traveler "Omanu" later, fluttered to the deck of the Empress of Britain. It carried a message along time and place of release, and date of its last feeding. On the return of the big liner to England next week the feathered stowaway, after its two way crossing of the Atlantic will be thrown into the air to let its way home, with a message from Capt. Latta tied to its leg, in authentication of the strange story it will have to tell.

price would necessarily be two or three times as much. A paper whose subscription price is $2 would be at least $2 if it had no advertising patronage, hence every subscriber virtually gets one dollar from the advertisers. It follows, then, that subscribers should have a kindly feeling for the advertisers of their paper, and give them the preference in the bestowal of their patronage, for the reason that one good turn deserves another.

NEWSPAPER OFFICE HINTS

Never send articles for publication without giving your name, for the name often secures publication of a worthless article.

Thou shalt not rap at the door of a printing office, for he that hears thee rap anarchy in his sleeves and loathes it.

Thou shalt never read copy on the typewriter or sharp and hooked container thereof, or he may knock you down.

Never inquire of the editor the news, for behold it is his business to give it to thee at the appointed time without asking for it.

It is not right that thou should ask him who is the author of an article, for it is his duty to keep such things to himself.

When thou dost enter his office, take heed of thyself that thou dost not look at what may concern thee, not for that is not met in the sight of good breeding.

Neither examine thou the proof-sheet for it is not ready to meet thine eye, that thou mayest understand.

Read thine own paper, and if thou hast not a ready done so, subscribe for it immediately. Pay for it in advance, and it will be well with thee and thine.

Lethbridge, in violation of all Western principles of chivalry, has come boldly out with the statement that the female cottonwoods must fall under the axe. It is said that the female of the species is responsible for this generous drift of fluff that sweeps through the air like a June snowstorm.

As usual the male cottonwood is a pillar of rectitude, a respected member of society, and the poor female is the outcast. Again the women pay. No doubt this drastic conclusion which has been reached by Lethbridge naturalists—all male—carries some reason with it. But it is likely that all females will resent the cold presentation of the situation. Not a trace of regret in the words of these men, no delicate veiling of the shame. Perhaps instead one may catch a slight undertone of masculine superiority. The female is proved guilty again.

Altogether there is quite a drama tied up in this "he and she" business. The female cottonwoods of Lethbridge seem due for a fall, and the question is will there be sorrow in the hearts of the males, or will they whisper "There's another bunch of trouble passed on." And there also includes the disturbing picture of some unfortunate householder who has nothing but females in his little plot. Will his haven go in one fell swoop, exposing him to the rigors of the winds of heaven, or will the authorities leave him a female or two to bless his doorstep. Could the Provincial Sterilization Act not be invoked for the suppression of fluff?—Vulcan Advertiser.
